

THEIR THIRD DAY.

Work of the Episcopal Diocesan Convention.
WALLACE DELAFIELD RE-ELECTED TREASURER BY ACCLAMATION.

Trustees of the Theological Educational Fund Selected—Other Appointments—Further Contributions—Announcements—Familiar Wrangle.

Rev. F. G. Robert, rector of the Church of the Holy Communion, conducted the services in Christ Church Cathedral, which preceded to-day's session of the Episcopal Convention in Behrler Memorial House. At 10:30 o'clock Bishop Tuttle called the convention to order. After the call of the roll and the reading of the minutes, additional pledges for missions were received from St. Chrysostom's, St. Louis, $5; from J. D. Rutchy, St. Louis, $5; from J. D. Rutchy, St. Louis, $5; from Grace Church, Crystal City, $10. Treasurer Wallace Delafield made a supplementary report of $27, collected since yesterday.

ELECTION OF TREASURER.
The bishop announced the election of the treasurer of the diocese to be next in order. Prof. M. S. Snow offered the suggestion that the rules of order be suspended and that the secretary be instructed to cast the ballot of the convention for the incumbent, Wallace Delafield. No objection was made and Mr. Delafield was re-elected to office. Mr. E. J. Thomas, Rev. J. P. T. Ingraham and Mr. John R. Triplett were elected trustees of the Theological Educational Fund, of which the bishop and the diocesan secretary are ex-officio members. Messrs. G. S. Freeborn, Frank Carter and F. M. Judd were elected trustees of the Episcopal Educational Fund. Rev. K. N. Dean and Messrs. W. R. Donaldson and President M. S. Snow were chosen trustees of the fund for aged and infirm clergy. For each of these elections the rules of order were suspended and the secretary was instructed to cast the ballot of the convention in each instance. The number of nominees equaled the number of places to be filled, and formal vote of both orders, clergy and lay, was not taken. The time of time, Christ Church Cathedral was chosen as the place for the next convention without a contest. The bishop announced that St. Luke's Hospital Association would meet in the chapel of the hospital at 8 o'clock to-night. The St. Louis convention was announced to meet during the noon recess. A meeting of the body of the convention, therefore, three members of the cathedral chapter were called to order after the adjournment of the convention this afternoon. The body of electors consists of the standing committee of the diocese, the deputies to the General Convention and the missionary board.

Mr. J. A. Waterworth announced that at a meeting of the Laymen's Co-Operative Missionary Association held yesterday, Mr. Lyett was chosen President, Mr. J. A. Waterworth, Secretary, and Mr. Leavitt, Treasurer. The report was entered on the record. The bishop announced that the election of the missionary board was in order. The board consists of nine clerical and nine lay members. The bishop and the two rural members are ex-officio members of the board. The election, therefore, was for six clerical and nine lay members. Nominations were made as follows: Rev. S. H. Green, R. H. Lyett, Wm. Hardens, Wm. Elmer, John Wilcox, Charles Trotman, K. M. Dean, Carroll K. Davis, James A. Waterworth, D. Leavitt, John A. Harrison, E. H. Lyett, Wm. Magnall, H. H. Dennison, R. G. Jordan, Chas. Sparks, W. C. Stubb, and Prof. Potter. The last named and Messrs. W. R. Donaldson and James A. Waterworth withdrew from the race. Mr. J. A. Waterworth and Mr. R. H. Lyett were appointed tellers to count the ballots. When the tellers made their report, the convention became involved in a tangle and a discussion, which lasted for an hour. The difficulty was that although each member of the convention for six clerical and nine lay candidates for the missionary board, seven clergy and seven laymen received a concurrent majority of the two orders. The seven clergy who were chosen to fill six places were Revs. S. H. Green, R. A. Holland, Wm. Elmer, John Wilcox, Chas. Trotman, K. M. Dean, and William Short. The bishop ruled that there was no election of clergy, but that seven laymen had been elected. The point was raised that the invalidity of the vote for clergy violated the constitution of the laymen. Mr. George M. Black moved that the second vote for clerical members of the missionary board be restricted to the seven who received the concurrent majority. The motion was lost by a vote of 24 to 8. The bishop then ordered another election for six clerical and two lay members to complete the board, but 1 o'clock, the hour for recess had passed and the balloting was deferred until 2:30 o'clock. The seven laymen who were elected were Messrs. M. S. Snow, Leavitt, Harrison, Lyett, Hagzell and Smith.

ASSESSMENTS ANNOUNCED.
While the convention was waiting for the report of the tellers on the vote for the missionary board Mr. E. J. Thomas, chairman of the assessment committee, reported the apportionment of $5,000 which the convention yesterday decided to raise for the diocese expenses of the coming year. The assessments were as follows:
Afton, $5; Clarksville, $20; Columbia, $125; De Soto, $50; Hannibal, $150; Jefferson City, $100; Kirksville, $200; Madison, $20; Macdon, $50; Mexico, $50; Monterey, $50; Monroe, $50; Old Orchard, $150; Palmyra, $25; Prairieville, $20; St. Charles, $50; St. Louis, All Saints', $25; St. Louis, Ascension, $75; St. Louis, Cath. Good Shepherd, $40; St. Louis, Holy Communion, $70; St. Louis, Holy Innocents, $20; St. Louis, St. Ignace, $20; St. Louis, St. John's, $20; St. Louis, St. Mark's, $20; St. Louis, St. Paul's, $75; St. Louis, St. Peter's, $25; St. Louis, St. Vincent, $20; Missions—Beaver, $15; Canton, $15; Crystal City, $50; Cape Girardeau, $50; Cuba, $15; Ferguson, $50; Grandview, $15; Kirksville, $20; La Platte, $50; Montgomery, $15; Portland, $10; Rolla, $50; Shelbyville, $10; St. James, $10; St. Louis, Assumption, $10; Kipphany, $10; St. Matthews, $15; St. Stephens, $10; St. Thomas, $10; Thayer, $10; total, $5,000.
Rev. Dr. R. A. Holland, rector of St. George's, said that he would like to know by what authority and craft St. George's was asked to pay $250, while St. Peter's was assessed only $25. He said that St. Peter's was assessed $100. When a parish were nickel plate rings and has a fairly ho drive as well as a short, it should pay the costs. Mr. Short said that he did not feel called upon to reply. He feared that Dr. Holland's imagination had been wrought up by his experience at St. Peter's. Mr. Short wanted to correct a popular impression that St. Peter's parish was made up of bloated and fat church members. Dr. Holland named two single male members of St. Peter's who were challenged. Holland made no reply, although he remarked, "soto voce," that he had not a single member of St. Peter's in his parish, a figure of speech which caused amusement. After some discussion the report of the assessment committee was adopted.

No Shots This Morning.
There were no shots at live birds or blue rocks at the state tournament this morning. The Kansas City contingent returned home last night and less than half a dozen of the local sportsmen showed up for the morning. The grounds at Delafield Memorial are in the opinion of the best weather and poor advertising are accounted for the failure of the tournaments. Only four of the nine scheduled shoots at pigeons were brought off.

AGAINST THE ROAD.

The State Supreme Court Affirms the Wabash Injunction.

ITS TRACKS ON COLLINS STREET MUST NOW COME UP.

A Decision Which Will Not Be Relished by Suburban Patrons of the Railway—Rogers Harty May Allow His Wife to Secure a Deed—News of the Courts.

The Supreme Court at Jefferson City has by its decision to-day sustained Judge Withrow in a very important ruling against the Wabash Railway Co. Just three years ago Leverett Bell, as attorney for George B. Lockwood and others, brought a suit for injunction against the Wabash Railway, setting up in their petition that the company was occupying Collins street between Franklin avenue and Carr street without authority, and to the damage of all the adjoining property. The suit has been bitterly fought inasmuch as the tracks objected to are used constantly for switching and passenger service and were contemplated as depot tracks by the Wabash for its belt road.

The petitioners, however, held that Collins street at the point in controversy was only forty feet wide with two eight-foot sidewalks which left a roadway of only twenty-four feet. In this roadway the Wabash claimed the right to lay a double track under a permit from the Mayor, which permit was said to have been given under authority of ordinance No. 15,818 of the city, and also under its charter inherited from the North Missouri Railway. The ordinance, however, only authorizes a single track on Collins street, and further is subject to the provision of the North Missouri charter, which prohibits building the road so as to prevent the public from using the roadway. The Wabash has double track and siding at the point in question, and was building a permanent one, and the Wabash was practically occupying the street for several hours every day it was set up. The injunction was granted by Judge Withrow and an appeal taken from his decision to the Supreme Court. In the meantime the tracks were left undisturbed until the Supreme Court should have passed upon the decision. The decision rendered to-day by the Supreme Court has the effect of making the injunction a permanent one, and the Wabash will probably have to take up its tracks at that point. This will be a hard blow to the suburban patrons of the line who have been anxiously awaiting the day when the road should succeed in extending its tracks to Washington avenue, where it contemplated erecting a suburban passenger depot.

The Hartys' Marital Troubles.
There is some probability that the maintenance suit of Mrs. Ellen Hartys, now pending in Judge Dillon's court, will be disposed of by Mr. Hartys withdrawing from the contest and allowing his wife to obtain a decree. The suit was brought by Mrs. Hartys, who is an attorney, Col. J. J. Fortis, the general procedure regulating such a dissolution of the matter. Mr. Hartys maintained the domestic war by beginning a divorce suit against his wife, however, was dismissed by Judge Fisher. Mrs. Hartys then retaliated by commencing the pending proceedings. She alleges that since November, 1892, he has neglected and refused to support her, although the recipient of a large income and the owner of a large amount of property.

Suit for Damages Over a Fall.
The damage suit of John Walser against Herman Bachmann was on trial in Judge Dillon's court to-day before a special jury, and a great deal of expert medical testimony was introduced. The plaintiff asks for $10,000 damages for injuries sustained by him while he was a guest at Concordia Park on Thirteenth and Wash streets. Herman Bachmann is the proprietor of the park.

WIRE-TAPPERS' CASE.

One of Them Fined $25 and Taken an Appeal.

The four alleged wire-tappers, Owen Norton, Martin J. Scott, Wm. Penix and Wm. Mayfield, who were arrested while climbing over the Fair Grounds fence early last Sunday morning by Officers Horan, Hendley, Winkler and Chappell of the Sixth District, were arraigned for trial in the Second District Police Court this morning on charges of disturbing the peace. Morton was given a hearing, found guilty and fined $25. The other three secured continuances until May 31, Scott also taking a change of venue.

Political Notes.
The election of W. J. Zeveloff of Jefferson City to the Democratic State Central Committee for the Eighth District was in opposition to the wish of Gov. Stone. Mr. Zeveloff is the clerk of the Supreme Court and a warm supporter of Chairman Maffitt, although he has been a member of the committee about two months, having been elected at the March conference of Democratic committeemen to succeed F. A. Hanner, deceased.

Nickel-in-the-Slot Cases.
Several nickel-in-the-slot cases were on the docket in the Court of Criminal Correction to-day, but were continued until June 14, in order that all of the nickel-in-the-slot cases may come up on the same day.

Mr. John A. Scholten, eldest son of the late John A. Scholten, the photographer, died yesterday after an illness of some months. The deceased was well known and popular about town. He succeeded to his father's business at his death, but sold out after a time.

Why Red Angers a Bull.
The reason why red infuriates animals of the ox family is because red is the complementary color of green, and the eyes of cattle being fixed on herbage while feeding, when they spy anything red it impresses their sight with greatly increased intensity.

THE WOMAN WHO HAS BEEN WAGGLING ABOUT THE CITY HALL.

HAS BEEN ACCOMPANIED BY HER TWO LITTLE CHILDREN.

The Three Have Been Cried in Bright Red—Mrs. Bertha Kunz Visited the Building to Get Money She Believed to Be Due for Her—A Touching Scene.

Mrs. Bertha Kunz, the young wife of August Kunz of 1111 South Thirteenth street, was pronounced mentally deranged by Dr. George L. Kearney at the Dispensary this morning.

For the past three days Mrs. Kunz has attended the offices of the City Hall by wandering about the halls and offices of the building, garbed in a bright red dress and accompanied by two beautiful, flaxen-haired children also wearing costumes of bright red. The children carried small red parasols and alternately clung to their mother's dress or romped about the building in childish glee, all mindful of the sad delusion which led their mother to the City Hall. She went about the place, from one office to another inquiring for Mayor Walbridge, Dr. Priest and Mr. Henry Nieman of the Treasurer's office.

And when she could find none of them, she would wander about the hall and the adjacent streets and alleys, her children always by her side. Those who saw her could not imagine what caused her peculiar actions.

THE HUSBAND'S STORY.

Her husband states that her maiden name was Bertha Wohlfoght, and that she married him seven years ago, she being then 22 years of age. Two children were born of the union, one a boy now 4 and a girl now 6 years of age. They lived happily together until about a year ago, when, Mr. Kunz says, she began to show signs of insanity, imagining that he was "against" her and had bewitched her and the children. This delusion grew upon her until it became so serious he could stand it no longer, and he placed her in St. Vincent's Asylum. When she had been there three weeks, he learned that she was not taking care of her. After keeping her about a month, Kunz says, Hausenmiller sent her back to him. They lived together until March when, Kunz says, he could stand it no longer and placed his wife and children in an apartment he rented for them out on California avenue, between Osgood and Keokuk streets, where he paid her rent and gave to her for her support $5 weekly out of his salary as a mail statistician of the South St. Louis branch. Recently, however, she has grown worse, he says. Her last act, he says, was to go to the office of the City Hall, where Dr. Kearney examined her, found her wandering from her home, but took no action, as Kunz had not made up his mind whether to send her to St. Vincent's Asylum or to keep her at home. He insisted on seeing Dr. Priest and getting money for her. Not succeeding Tuesday afternoon she called again, and this time she was accompanied by a young man, who he said was her husband, but he had gone home. She had no money, he said, and she was wandering about the city, and when the doctor decided that there was no hope for her, he sent her to St. Vincent's Asylum, as he could not afford to keep her in St. Vincent's.

A SAD SCENE.

The scene in the City Dispensary this morning was a sad one as Mr. and Mrs. Kunz and their two little children sat there together. Mrs. Kunz was seated in another room, and the bright red dress and so were the children. The little boy and girl seemed devotedly attached to their mother, but their principal concern seemed to be about the money she couldn't see why she could not get it if it was left to her. The husband looked on with a heavy heart, but said it was the best thing he could do under the circumstances, though he would place the children in some educational institution, and hoped that his wife could be cured sufficiently to return once more to the family.

A TAILOR GOWN.
568--BERKSHIRE COAT.

Sizes 34, 36, 38 and 40 Inches, Bust Measure.

The most desirable dresses for traveling and general wear are the tailor-made gowns, which have neatness and good style to recommend them. This jaunty coat, with its stylish waistcoat, is a favorite model to wear with various skirts, or combined with the "prairie" skirt it completes a neat and becoming costume. The coat is open almost to the waist in the back, and has a wide side-form seam, like a man's coat; it is fitted in front with one dart, and flares away to disclose the waistcoat. A blouse-waist or a basque may be substituted for the waistcoat, but the smartest suits have a waistcoat with a front of silk, pique or marseilles, with which is worn a linen chemise and tie. The waistcoat can be made entirely of the same material, and if sleeves be added it could be worn in the house without the coat. Covert cloth, homespans, tweeds and serges are the popular materials; and for summer wear costumes made of fine duck or canvas are exceedingly stylish and cool. Rows of stitching are used to finish the revers, sleeves and edges of the coat.

A special illustration and full directions about the pattern will be found on the envelope in which it is enclosed.

524--FRASER SKIRT.
Sizes, Medium and Large.

This is a popular skirt of conservative fullness and outline, fitting the front and sides snugly, and flaring in graceful fullness just back of the hips. It is a combination of the circle front and sides, with three godet plaits in the back. To give the rounded appearance to the plaits and keep them from crushing and creasing, they are interspersed with a sheet of wadding tacked to the lining; and they are held securely in place by being tacked to inch-and-a-half wide ribbons placed across them on the inside. In the case of the skirt-extenders, a fine steel spring in a casing, which is worked to the waist and the plaits, and the ends are connected by ribbons and tied so as to give the desired contour to the back. This skirt is most suitable for silk or woolen fabrics, and combines well with any style of blouse or waist.

A special illustration and full directions about the pattern will be found on the envelope in which it is enclosed.

Her Birthday Gown.
579--ELAINE DRESS.

Sizes for 2 and 4 Years.

This charming little gown is an excellent model for young children's dresses, which cannot fail to commend itself on account of its dainty appearance and because it is so easily made. The "gimp" may be made of the material chosen for the dress; but those made of soft white material, as India mull, linen lawn, thin silk, and material of fine lawn, are effective and are easily laundered. The little empire yoke and the sleeve-caps finished on the inside with a row of stitching make it very dainty; but fancy braid or narrow insertion can be used. This is very pretty made in cashmere, challis, or India silk, and is commended for any of the soft light materials usually employed for little children's dresses. A special illustration and full directions about the pattern will be found on the envelope in which it is enclosed.
